When obtaining a septic permit:

In order to obtain a septic permit in Noble County the property owner must first hire a certified soil scientist that will perform a series of on-site soil tests with results sent to the home owner and the Health Department. Upon receipt of the soil test the property owner may contact Jack Chronister of the Noble County Health Department to set up a time to purchase a permit which sells for fifty dollars and is good for one year. If the permit is for the construction of a new home the prospective builder is required to own two acres of land but if the permit is for a pre-existing septic system in need of repair there is no property size requirement.

Septic installers working in Noble County must purchase a license each calendar year beginning January 1.
